

reader submitted photo

ProAct

Clients of Eagan-based ProAct are benefiting from a pledge from Staples Financial of West St. Paul to donate $300 to the nonprofit every time a Minnesota Twins player hits a triple. Kris Staples, president of Staples Financial, is the son of the firm's founding partner, Art Staples, who was a minor-league player for the Chicago Cubs. "The people they serve are the people we're near and dear to," said Staples, who stressed the importance of ProAct's goal of assisting people with developmental disabilities and other challenges. With facilities in Eagan, Red Wing, Zumbrota and Hudson, Wis., ProAct serves people from the Twin Cities, southern Minnesota and western Wisconsin.