MANUFACTURING CONSULTANT JON WILBRECHT NAMED TO BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF PROACT, INC.

Former owner of manufacturing firms to offer guidance to ProAct, which provides employment, skills development and enrichment services to people with disabilities

Jon Wilbrecht, a Minneapolis-based manufacturing consultant, has been elected a director of ProAct, Inc., an organization providing employment related services and life skills for people with disabilities and other challenges.

As a principal of Wilbrecht Consulting, the high-tech industry veteran counsels firms on strategic partnerships, production issues and planning. He recently sold a company he led for 25 years, Wilbrecht Electronics, Inc., of St. Paul, to two European companies.

"I know that Jon Wilbrecht will contribute greatly to the work of ProAct's board of directors and give us valuable insights as we move ahead in the future," said Steven Ditschler, president and chief executive officer of the Eagan-based organization. "His understanding of manufacturing and business issues will be most meaningful."
